	   a. Synthetic rubber slipcover
	   b. Polycarbonate shell

3. Start by placing the rubber slipcover onto the Mobile Device, ensuring a snug fit. Pay attention to the charging port cover, making sure it aligns with the bottom of the Mobile Device.	4. Follow by positioning the Polycarbonate shell over the rubber slipcover, starting from the bottom. This approach ensures proper placement of the charging port cover on the bottom of your Mobile Device.
5. Confirm a tight fit of the Polycarbonate shell over the rubber slipcover, and if necessary, work around the edges of the Mobile Device to achieve a secure attachment.	6. Verify that the charging port cover is correctly situated at the bottom of the phone. If not, continue adjusting around the edges until the desired fit is achieved.
