Did you know?

The original food pyramid in 1980 stated weight gain should stop after age 20-25.

It was recently discovered exercised muscles release special proteins that improve the immune system. Exercise not only improves survival rates in patients undergoing cancer treatment, but also it can help prevent seven of the most common cancers, including colon and breast cancer.

In 2023 Harvard Medical School published a study in the Journal of Clinical Psychiatry showing 1 session of hot yoga per week can significantly improve symptoms of depression in a short period of time. Many go years without trying exercise/yoga and pop pills with side effects.
